

THE MAINSTREAM FROM NV1

REDEFINING TRADITIONAL RADIO

The Mainstream with Brett Maybee is a radio program exploring the best recorded music of yesterday and today for an adult contemporary audience. Safe enough to play at work, but daring enough to never get bored, producer and host Brett Maybee (Seneca) draws upon his love of all music to create the very best listening experience.

Program Notes:

Available to stations 3 hours per day for 7 days a week. Hours 1 & 2 will have more timely information such as new releases and "on this date" information. The timely information will be relevant for a couple of weeks around the air date. Hour 3, Saturday and Sunday are all evergreen.

Meet the Host

Producer and host, Brett Maybee (Seneca), grew up on and is raising a family on the Seneca Nations Allegany Territory in western New York.

In addition to being a singer/songwriter, Brett also developed a deep love and passion for broadcasting after accepting a job with the Seneca Nations radio station, Classic Hits 105.9 WGWE fm in 2015.

Since 2016, you might also recognize him (or rather, his voice) as the VOG for the Native American Music Awards.

Last, and perhaps most importantly, being committed to learning the language and traditions of the Onondowa'ga' (Seneca) and Haudenosaunee (Iroquois), he brings his love of family, culture and music together in a unique and engaging way.

"Brett is amazing! I loved the interview we did with him, he was personal, respectful and asked the most thoughtful questions! By the end I felt like we were family."

- Jayli Wolf, Once A Tree

"Your voice is the perfect addition to NV1!"

- Clayson Benally, Sihasin
